PLEASED WITH OLD FOLKS HOME.

Columbia, S. C., July 18 '21.
Rev. Chas. Jagers is doing great work for a man of his age in Columbia, S. C., for the benefit of the older people. He has established for them an Old Folks Home at 2120 Elmwood Avenue. Never in all my travels in fifteen years have I had the pleasure of meeting a man of his age doing such great work for the Colored people.

As I am in Columbia on a visit to see my wife, Mrs. C. C. Leftwich, for a few days, I called at the Old Folks Home and was surprised to see the older people so pleasant to each other. They seemed as if they were all happy, full of smiles and laughter, and it made me feel as though they were glad to meet me. I shook hands with them all and felt happy to know that they were happy and to be in their company is a pleasure to me. I have never had the privilege before of being in an Old Folks Home.

I also went to the Mission to the morning service with the older people, and it was well addressed by Rev. L. Boles. At the three o'clock Sunday School 58 scholars were present. I am glad to see the wonderful work of Rev. Jagers go, and hope it will continue. Every one that can, both white and Colored, should give a helping hand in his undertaking. I am willing to do all I can the few days I am in your beautiful city of Columbia.
C. C. Leftwich.

2ND. CALVARY NOES.

Rev. Richard Carroll preached an able sermon at Second Calvary Baptist Church last Sunday morning from the subject, "God Looking for a Man" The Rev. W. W. L. Clark, principal of Seneca Institute, Dr. Antidel, president of Benedict College, Rev. Virgil Johnson, and Rev. Dowdle assisted in the services. Rev. Battle of Tuskegee Institute was to fill the pulpit at night but owing to the inclement weather the congregation did not turn out.

Dr. R. W. Baylor will preach Sunday (24th) and baptize in the morning immediately after the morning services.

The friends of the city are invited to come out and worship with us.
